

Richard Ruston After High School Education Award

Value Statement:

One of Community Living Windsor's main values is recognizing that learning never stops. People learn through changes and challenges in their life. People also learn by finding opportunities to learn new skills. Community Living Windsor offers an opportunity to assist people who have an intellectual disability to follow their dreams and goals as they continue their education past high school.

Who can apply?

A person who has an intellectual disability, lives in the Windsor/Essex County area and is connected to Community Living Windsor.

Award: up to $1,000

Guidelines:

1. Applications forms can be filled out and submitted to the Review Committee. There is no application deadline.
2. The award winner(s) will be informed within two months of submission.
3. The money will be given to the award winner following the notification. Winners are asked to attend the Annual General Meeting in June.
4. Application forms will be read by a Review Committee made up of a member of the Board of Directors, the Manager of Communications/Staff Development, a self-advocate and the Executive Director. The award winner(s) will be decided by the Board of Directors. There can be up to 5 awards presented in one calendar year.
5. A student can only receive the award once.
6. The award can be used to help cover the cost of a course, clothes, textbooks and transportation.
7. If the award money is given and the student does not continue their education, the money must be returned.
8. Application forms must be filled out and mailed to:
